DETAILED ACTION

Response to Argument

Applicant's arguments filed March 24, 2010 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

- Applicant argument regarding claim 1 limitation: the examiner respectfully disagrees with applicant position. As discussed in non-final office action paragraph 0102 discloses a live recording video signal which is video data have not stored yet; Fig. 12a-12e and fig. 13a-13c shows storage status which includes capacity of the storage, recorded program, remaining space.... The reference obviously discloses ever limitation of the claim. Therefore as whole of Ficco discloser, the examiner maintains that Ficco et al. more than adequately provides support for the claimed limitations. Further for the new added limitation see the new cited paragraph below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6 and 8-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ficco et al. (US 2002/0054750).

Regarding claim 1: Ficco et al discloses a method of representing allocation of storage unit capacity within an audio/video (AV) recording device, comprising: identifying a quantity of AV program data stored on said storage unit (paragraph 0100); obtaining a storage schedule for new AV program data to be stored on said storage unit in a predetermined period of time (paragraph 0102, 0123 and fig. 21a), comprising of the first AV program data and the second different AV program data defined over a predetermined time period (paragraph 0116 and Fig. 21b); obtaining a deletion schedule for a plurality of old AV program data stored in the storage unit defined over predetermined time period (paragraph 0123-0124 and Fig. 21b); and producing temporally dynamic indicia representative of allocation of capacity of storage unit over predetermined time period in response to said quantity of AV program data, storage schedule, and deletion schedule (paragraph 0106, 0116 and 0123-0124), wherein predetermined time period is a future of time period from a current time of identifying a quantity of AV program data stored on storage unit. (paragraph 0123-0124 and fig. 21a-c).

Regarding claim 2: Ficco et al discloses a method of claim 1, further comprising: displaying a pictorial representation of said temporally dynamic indicia on a display device in communication with said AV recording device (figure 12a-c).

Regarding claim 3: Ficco et al discloses a method of claim 1, wherein step of producing comprises: (a) selecting a time (paragraph 0123); (b) determining a storage configuration of storage unit in response to quantity of AV program data, storage schedule, and deletion schedule at selected time (paragraph 0123-0124); (c) repeating steps (a) and (b) to determine a plurality of storage configurations for a respective plurality of times (paragraph 0123-0124); and (d) combining plurality of storage configurations to form said temporally dynamic indicia (paragraph 0116 and figure 12a-c).

Regarding claim 4: Ficco et al discloses a method of claim 3, further comprising: successively displaying pictorial representations of plurality of storage configurations on a display device in communication with said AV recording device to define a graphical animation (figure 12).

Regarding claim 5: Ficco et al discloses a method of claim 4, wherein graphical animation comprises a pie chart (paragraph 0107 and figure 12).

Regarding claim 6: Ficco et al discloses a method of claim 1, further comprising: modifying a recording configuration of AV recording device in response to temporally dynamic indicia (paragraph 0123-0124 and figure 12); and re-producing temporally dynamic indicia in response to modified recording configuration (figure 12).

Regarding claim 8: Ficco et al discloses a method of claim 6, wherein step of modifying comprises: deleting an AV program stored on storage device (paragraph 0116).

Regarding claim 9: Ficco et al discloses a method of claim 6, wherein step of modifying comprises: archiving an AV program stored on storage device (paragraph 0124).

Regarding claim 10: Claim 10 rejected for the same subject matter as claim 1.

Regarding claims 11-13: Claims 11-13 are rejected for the same subject matter as claim 4-6 respectively.

Regarding claims 14-20: Claims 14-20 are rejected for the same subject matter as claim 1-2 and 5-9 respectively.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 7 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ficco et al. as applied to claim 1-6 above, and further in view of Kaneko et al. (US 6,671,454).

Regarding claim 7: Ficco et al discloses all a method claim 6 limitation, further Kaneko et al. discloses the step of modifying comprises at least of: increasing compression ratio of an AV program stored on storage unit (Fig. 14); and increasing compression ratio of an AV program scheduled for storage on storage unit (Fig. 14).

It would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to combine Kaneko et al. invention into Ficco et al. in order to free storage space for further AV data recording.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
